Fantastic Games features more than 40 brain-teasing levels, 3 game modes and a high score table. Time yourself to find out if you are the boss of fun! Hot Play! has more than 150 level races, and around 25,000 race cars have been created, including vehicles from popular brands such as Ford, Rolls Royce, Jaguar and BMW. Races are designed for competitive racing and playing online. The amusement park theme and theme park physics make this game unique. More than 20 music tracks are played in single player to support various game modes and ensure enjoyment throughout. The game brings a whole new dimension to the world of racing. About The Game: Mickey Mania 2 is a racing game in which you can select from three characters (Mickey, Minnie and Pluto) to race. It is easy to play and has a wide variety of game modes. Clicking the Mouse cursor with the left button corresponds with driving the game car. Real time racing You can choose to race against your friends on online leaderboards.

Drift and Nitro powers The game uses the known drift technique of the racing games to control your car's direction by using the swing of your car. The more the car turns to the left the faster it will go, and the further you go to the left the more you will increase the power. By turning to the right you can slow down or even stop the car. Nitro takes energy from the ground, and the more it is used the more the car is able to drift and the faster it will go. When you push the gas the car will go faster. Game Modes: There are two game modes in Mickey Mania 2: single player and online. Single Player The single player game has three character races and is designed to let you test your skill and to become the best player in the world. Online leaderboard From beginning to the end, only the players on the current version of the leaderboard can see each other's times. You can compare your times with the other players and they can also compare themselves with others. Drift and Nitro runs It is possible to drift or use nitro in the race and to choose your own race route so you can race against other people or just yourself. You can also race only in drifting or only in nitro. New Super Easy Race In this new mode you can only play against the computer c9d1549cdd

KnightOut is about a knight in Shining armor. He's a knight. In an anime-style world you're brought up to know nothing about this world's history or present society. You only know that there's one knight who wields a very special sword called the Legendary Sword. Your starting equipment is a sword and a shield. There's no other gear you can use. Not even a helmet.

That's it. You are there to fulfill one purpose. "But wait... How can you swing your sword so easily without a sword belt or something?" "It's not hard, this sword is powerful enough to break bones... But if you hit someone in the face or head with the Legendary Sword, they would lose their consciousness and die." "Also, can you swing that sword with one hand?" "Of course, it's a weapon of its own. I've never had any problems using one hand." "I see... Can you swing it like this?" "Yes, of course, it's just a matter of timing." And then the game begins. Your first goal is to find out where the Legendary Sword is. You try to get some information, but you can only get a limited view. Just what the neighborhood is. But it looks like it's in this neighborhood. "What the? Is there a hill? There's a hill right here." There's a hill and you can tell where the Legendary Sword is, but it is next to a river. "Isn't the Legendary Sword just like that one?" No. The Legendary Sword is half red and half yellow. This half-red half-yellow color makes it look like it is burning in the air. I guess you could say that the Legendary Sword's aura is a red-yellow color. But the color is like if the Legendary Sword wasn't a sword. The Legendary Sword is not a sword.

That's your only view. So what do you do? You have to go and get the Legendary Sword. But there are monsters.

Zeus Quest (also known as ZeeQuest, Zeus Quest Remastered, and Zeus II: Quest for Zeus) is a real-time strategy videogame developed by The Indie Pogo and published by The Indie Pogo Group for Microsoft Windows and by Psytronik Software for mobile OS in 1990 and 1991. It was founded in Los Angeles by Chastity Jones and Jay Chapman in 1990. After seeing their final demo the Atari Corporation signed them as developers for the Atari Jaguar.

While working on the game, they gained some additional help and switched publishers. The company ran into some financial troubles and lost most of the contracts from Atari. This prompted them to stop the project and create a new team at the Psytronik Group. In 2004, Psytronik Group re-published the game and later in 2005, they discontinued the project and The Indie Pogo Group signed the game to Glu Games and developed a port of the game. The game centered on a young boy named Zeus, who sets out to defeat a group of extraterrestrial invaders sent by their home planet Delphinium to colonize Earth. Gameplay During the game, the player is led through a series of battles against alien invaders, each in a different environment on Earth including deserts, jungles, and snow covered landscapes. Zeus Quest: Remastered has a series of levels and four difficulty settings. Many of the 16 levels are linked by hidden pathways. The player must take control of a descendant of the Grandpas from the original version, Zeus, during these levels. When the player reaches the end of a level, it is passed to another descendant of Zeus in an alternate universe. When the player is on the right path to return to the beginning of the level, they will have to pass through a portal, which functions in all levels as a warp point, to get back to the Grandpas' past and continue. There is also an achievement, which points the player to four different portal places, which aren't clearly marked on the screen. Challenges There are four challenges for the player to complete a level and gain a point. All challenges are worth a point and the player wins as many points as he/she can fulfill. A blue circle will appear when the player stands in front of a cone to avoid the falling debris, a white line will appear on the route to show the paths which will be blocked by falling obstacles, and a green line marks the safe path to walk. The first challenge
