A new studio that is about to hit the ground running with a new first game called Heavens Tournament which is a hardcore realistic fighting Virtual Reality game that will test your power, reflexes, dexterity and skills. We've been working on this game for about 5 months and we'll be releasing it by the end of April. The idea is to have a fighting game with combat realism being the main philosophy, that's one of the reasons that there isn't TouchPad locomotion, because footwork is extremely important in a fight, due to that, Room Setup is necessary to play this game. Wanna hurt the opponent? Then swing your arms like you would in a real fight. And do expect to feel your arms heavy and lungs burning a little while playing this game ;) It has a unique feature that the opponent will block the incoming attack according to the direction that the player is striking or even try to knee the player if they see a level change of the player going for a takedown. The combat has a simple realistic fighting system, such as, the wider and faster your attack it, the more damage it will deal, just like in real life. It sounds silly, but this is one of the only or the only game like that out there for now. Most VR games out there, you can knock the opponent down by just waving the controller on the their faces really fast, and that's very unrealistic. Expect real challenges, each opponent having a different fighting style and ability. Although the combat is realistic, Heavens Tournament has a few flashy abilities inspired by Animes (and my personal favorite, Hunter x Hunter), making the combat even more fun. This game can be a stress reliever or just some casual fun if you wanna play on Easy mode. Or a challenge, workout or practice if you wanna try the Hard mode. -GRAPHICS: -1920x1080p VRAM @ 60 FPS -5.1 Ch or Stereo Sound -VOICE ACTORS: -6 ANIME VOICE ACTORS -Vicente and Matsumoto: Blaque Pauldron, Arthas: Mr. Pebble Fynis: Kenya, Nellaen: Caterina, Luke: Relle, www.youtube.com/RellePlays -CATWA(Catwoman)S(Sherlock): -After Midnight -Angel Ito -I-don't-know-who-this-is:

Semenya's lawyers said in a statement on Thursday that the 28-year-old was "a woman born of two female parents", adding that their clients were "pleased and relieved" by a court ruling. Semenya is a two-time world indoor champion in the 800m. Her lawyers said she "was born a female in the image of God" and her successes have been "achieved in the female gender". The two women, Samantha Punjabi and Laurel Hubbard, were disqualified from the 400m event at the recent South African track and field championships. Semenya's lawyers called the allegations "factually untrue, morally reprehensible and harmful". The International Association of Athletics Federations (IAAF) had recognised Semenya's 2008 and 2012 Olympic and world 800m championship wins as victories for "Caster Semenya, a female athlete who is in the final of the women c9d1549cdd

You can only move one direction at a time, when you walk, the wind blows from side to side. You have to make use of your wind power to keep balance while walking. Once you have adjusted your stance, turn in the direction you want to move in, then press the attack button. The faster you move the more power you can use. You have three different styles of swords, each one has a different effect on wind power. Battles The importance of a fight, and you must not forget about that while fighting. Check your opponent's health first and use your wind power to cut and push him away. If he uses his wind power, you need to block his movements, if you want to win this fight, you need to think first. Recovery Make sure you have enough wind power to continue your fight. There are certain conditions where you cannot attack and must use wind power, like a blade coming back at you, or a flying enemy that is directly above you. Crossguard You can equip a shield to your sword when you have enough wind power to use it. Since it is necessary to equip a crossguard on your sword when you are fighting in the battlefield, you can use the wind power to the best of your abilities. Attacking The key to successful attacks are knowing where your opponent is and where he will be. So if you can get him moving first, you are probably going to get him first. You can block a person's blow with the arm, where his attack comes from and then counter-attack. If you do this properly, you can knock him off his feet. Implementing AI You can make your AI respond to every situation, you can also manipulate your AI to learn from your mistakes, so that you can make the combat easier. I have 5 stored procedures that call 5 different tables to get 1 single result from 5 tables. As long as I am using the same datatype for all the tables I have no problems, as long as these 5 tables do not depend on each other, as in the following example: Create Table #Test1 (ID BIGINT, Date Date, Body VARCHAR(MAX)) Create Table #Test2 (ID BIGINT, Date Date, Value VARCHAR(MAX)) SELECT tb1.ID, tb1.Date, tb1.Body, tb2.Value FROM #Test1 tb1 LEFT JOIN #Test2 tb2 ON tb2.ID = tb1.ID
