The only reason I could see would be to enable it under low memory conditions. I don't want to get into a discussion about the merits of the module, as that's not my expertise. But just wondering if it's an easy process to change the file to test with, and if it's already done, was it a conscious decision?Q: Web scraping only show first 10 search results I'm trying to use python3 to pull out some data from Google search results. However, it seems only the first 10 search results show up (which is 10 photos in the case) and not the whole list. The thing that bothers me is how the "Read the next n results..." link work. This is how it looks like:
